

wnbc.com

Sree Advice: Cool Online Greeting Cards

POSTED: 11:15 am EDT May 14, 2007
UPDATED: 8:21 pm EDT May 14, 2007

HallMark.com: Yes, the venerable paper cards company is high-tech these days. Check out the e-cards section, which allows you to add photos, videos and music. You can e-mail, print or post to a blog.

- Visit HallMark.com

BlueMountain.com: This very popular site continues to draw a large number of users and is worth checking out.

- Visit BlueMountain.com

MushyGushy.com: This line of e-cards offers new options such as personalizing your greetings with your own headshots and matching skin-tones and facial complexions.

- Visit MushyGushy.com

ThreeLeafCards.com: This is a next-generation, multimedia e-card that isn't free. You pay a $24 annual fee that allows you to send an unlimited number of cards (you can schedule them up to a year in advance). Ten percent of the proceeds go to environmental nonprofits.

- Visit ThreeLeafCards.com

IMAGES IN THE NEWS

- Nicotine-Addicted Tinseltown: Who Smokes?
- Caught On Tape: Elderly Man Beaten For Car
- This Week's Celebrity B-Days
- FHM's Sexiest Women In The World
- Russian River Turns Fluorescent Green
- Awww-some Pics
- The Week's Best Celebrity Photos
- Police: Flasher Caught On Tape In Underwear
- Stupid Celebrity Quotes
- Animal Mothers And Babies

© 2007 by WNBC.com. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

